

The Cost of Cable Cutting

Alison Wade & Daria Kropshofer | Staff Writers

HBO

$14.99 per month

- Top Shows:
- Euphoria
  - Game of Thrones
  - Succession

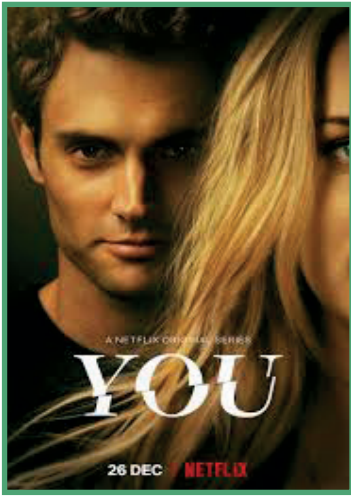

63 original movies

Netflix

$8.99 per month

- Top Shows:
- You
  - Sex Education
  - Stranger Things

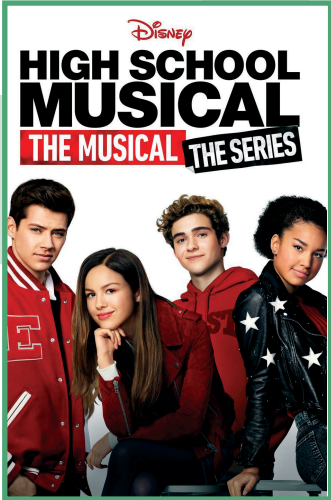

3,800 movies (150 original )

Disney +

$6.99 per month

- Top Shows:
- The Mandalorian
  - High School Musical: The Musical: The Series
  - The Simpsons

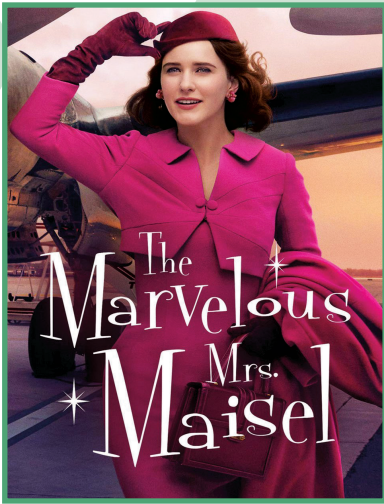

500 movies

Amazon Prime Video

$12.99 per month

- Top Shows:
- Marvelous Mrs. Maisel
  - Fleabag
  - Jack Ryan

17,500 movies

Cable TV can be expensive and doesn't offer the on-demand effect many of us are now accustomed to. Many people are trashing the cable box and saying goodbye to many of their unwatched channels. Switching to streaming services has become increasingly popular and successful; with modern day technology, we can watch our shows and movies anywhere.

Hulu

$5.99 per month

- Top Shows:
- The Handmaid's Tale
  - Killing Eve
  - The Act

2,300 movies

People often subscribe to multiple streaming services without knowing what they truly entail. With a little bit of research, you can see which of the streaming services are right for you. Hulu, for example, has a lot of the shows that are on cable, so you can still watch those shows as they come on. On the other hand, Disney +, has so many of the movies and shows that people grew up with

Apple TV +

$4.99 per month

- Top Shows:
- The Morning Show
  - Dickinson
  - See

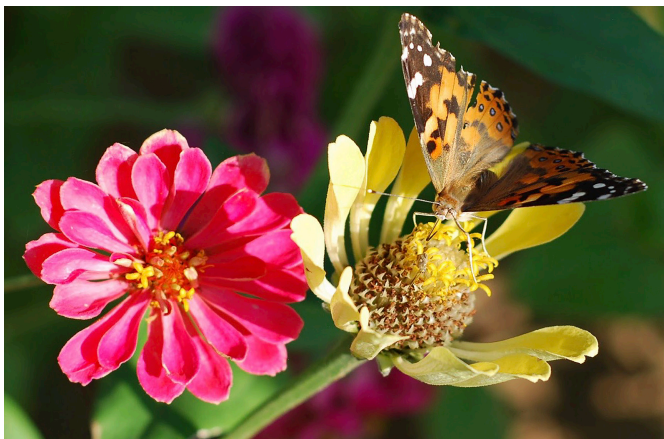

N/A

and gives people nostalgia and an opportunity to rewatch them. But, you can not just look at what shows and movies are offered, the prices often vary too. Depending on what you want in your streaming service and the amount of money you are willing to spend, there are a plethora of options at your disposal.

Photos of the Month: February

Akshara Joshi

Emma Wilner

Zoe Erikson

Not Pictured - Nicole Phillips; see page 2, Featured Photo